TaskExchange, a partnership between Cochrane and Guidelines International Network, is an online platform that connects people working on health evidence projects with people who have the time and skills to help. Anyone can join up to find a project helper and, with a 75% task response rate, the majority of people find the help they need. The platform now has 1800 members from around the world, and has hosted around 500 tasks.

This webinar will cover the background to TaskExchange and then focus on how the guidelines community can use the platform to get projects completed more quickly.

Speaker:

Emily Steele, Manager, TaskExchange Community Engagement & Partnerships, Cochrane

Moderator:

Yerado Abrahamian, G-I-N/NA Steering Committee Member
